

Fort Detrick, MD Earth Day 2005 Celebration

In celebration of the 35th anniversary of Earth Day, the U.S. Army Medical Research and Materiel Command hosted an educational event directed towards children but made for all to enjoy.

The event gathered environmental exhibits from a variety of sources and backgrounds together for an open house style event. Over 300 participants from all ages attended with exhibits that included the Rolling Rainforest, Catoclin Wildlife Zoo Park, honey bee displays, craft tables, insect education, the Thorp Foundation, Cody and BJ, Scales and Tales, and many more.

The U.S. Army Medical Research and Materiel Command (USAMRMC) is the Army's medical materiel developer and logistician.
