

Earth Day 2007 in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers New England District

The 15th annual West Thompson Lake Earth Day, North Grosvenordale, Connecticut, was on April 21, 2007. Corps employees from New England District joined volunteers in cleaning up the recreation area and working on several specific projects such as splitting wood for the campground, creating a new walkway at a boat ramp, fixing railways along walking bridges, and installing horseshoe pits.
