

Earth Day 2007 in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Savannah District

In Savannah District, rangers from the Richard B. Russell Lake participated in the Beverdam Elementary School yearly Earth Day Program on April 27. About 425 students learned about recycling, water resources education, and using plants to make paint during the day-long outdoor event. That same day, Savannah District team members explained the district's regulatory program to fourth- and fifth-graders at Hodge Elementary School. Students had the chance to check out the interactive wetlands exhibit as they learned about the importance of wetlands.
