

Dover Air Force Base Celebrate Earth Day with Youth

Dover Air Force Base (AFB) constantly collaborates with the Army on environmental issues.

On May 2, 2008, Dover AFB received their 16th Annual Tree City USA Award. In honor of this award they planted a Kwanzan Cherry tree at the Child Development Center.

The kids at the center put comments on a 3X5 index card (placed inside small jar) for a time capsule that was planted with the tree.

At a Tree City USA planting years ago, the base actually dug up a time capsule at the base school that was 21 years old.

On Friday after the tree planting, children at the school made pine cone bird feeders (honey and bird seed) and refrigerator magnets of butterflies, lady bugs, leaves and honey bees.
