

Earth Day 2006 in the Ansbach Garrison, Germany

In celebration of Earth Day 2006 the Ansbach Garrison in Bavaria, Germany took the local elementary school on a forest excursion to learn more about plants, animals and the importance of forest cultivation. The excursion was lead by three forest rangers and took place on April 18, 2006.

Children from the child development center also had the opportunity to learn more about recycling on their trip to the recycling center at Katterach, Bismarck Kaserne on April 21.
